Q 1. Examine the given statements and rewrite the same statements for coherence. (05) (CLO1)

- The two neighbors never fought each other.
- Fights involving three male fiddler crabs have been recorded, but the status of the participants was unknown.
- They pushed or grappled only with the intruder.
- We recorded 17 cases in which a resident that was fighting an intruder was joined by an immediate neighbor, an ally.
- We therefore tracked 268 intruder males until we saw them fighting a resident male.

Q 2. Identify and write main idea for the paragraph and also suggest an appropriate title. (05) (CLO1)

When one hears the term "reality" applied to a show, one might expect that the events portrayed occurred naturally or, at the least, were not scripted. This is not always the case. Many reality shows occur in unreal environments, like rented mansions occupied by film crews. Such living environments do not reflect what most people understand to be "reality." Worse, there have been accusations that events not captured on film were later restaged by producers. Worse still, some involved in the production of "reality" television claim that the participants were urged to act out story lines premeditated by producers. With such accusations floating around, it's no wonder many people take reality TV to be about as real as the sitcom.

Q 3. Rewrite the following paragraph using appropriate Articles. (05) (CLO1)

There are different kinds of reward. There is reward which has no natural connexion with things you do to earn it, and is quite foreign to desires that ought to accompany those things. Money is not natural reward of love; that is why we call man mercenary if he marries woman for sake of her money. But marriage is proper reward for real lover, and he is not mercenary for desiring it. General who fights well in order to get peerage is mercenary; general who fights for victory is not, victory being proper reward of battle as marriage is proper reward of love.

Q 4. Convert Nouns into Pronouns, where necessary in the following sentences. (05) (CLO1)

- The girl sang sweetly. The people listened to the girl. The people liked the girl. The people gave the girl money.
- These soldiers are wounded. These soldiers must go to hospital. The doctors will heal these soldiers. The doctors will not make the soldiers pay money.
- A boy saw a mango. The boy wanted the mango. The boy said, "The mango is ripe. The boy took the mango.
- John saw Ahmed. John called out to Ahmed. Ahmed answered John. John and Ahmed went along together. I saw John and Ahmed.
- I heard a beggar asking for alms. The beggar was very old and weak. I gave the beggar a him coin. The beggar took the coin and thanked me.
